A REPORT ON THE TWO DAY FACULTY OFFSITE AT UK'S RESORT, KHOPOLI

A faculty offsite was organised for S.P.I.T faculty between 17-19 March, 2023 with the purpose of revisiting the vision and mission of the Institute and set goals for the next 5-10 years. The agenda for the meet had been circulated by the Principal Prof B N Chaudhari and included both informative lectures as well as group activities. The participants had already been divided into six heterogeneous groups earlier and were asked to come up with a presentation on their vision and mission for S.P.I.T. Six other parallel domainwise groups were also formed to debate on the vision, mission and PEOs and goals for the EXTC, Computer Engineering and Computer science engineering departments. There was a buzz in the institute with several parallel meetings being held among the various groups and presentations being prepared and there was an air of anticipation as this was the first outing of its kind in the history of S.P.I.T.

DAY 1, 17 March, 2023

All the participants had been told to reach the venue and complete check-in formalities by 11am as the first session was scheduled to start by 11:30am.

Inauguration Ceremony:

Dr Pooja Raundale, Dean IQAC welcomed the participants and proceedings were initiated with the auspicious lighting of the lamp and the Saraswathi Vandana. A brief schedule of the two days was shared.

Session 1 : Revisiting Vision and Mission Statement , by Principal Prof B N Chaudhari.

The principal started his session outlining the purpose of the offsite programme. Highlighting the fact that the same topics could have been discussed in the S.P.I.T conference room, he stressed on the importance of meeting outside the confines of the campus crossing department boundaries and encourage bonding by steppin outside one's social circles. The session was fruitful and enlightening from the perspective of Vision and Mission statements. He illustrated the way to construct the statements by giving examples of few top layer national and international institutions like MIT, IITB, IITD, IISC Bangalore etc. One of the important thoughts he highlighted was about the importance of these statements during the accreditation visit. He mentioned that “Say what you do, Do what you say, Prove what you do during the visit and Improve successively”

Key takeaways :

1. Define personal professional goals.
2. Define vision, mission for department and for college.
3. Think about alleviating growth.
4. Require to work for PEO's first, then courses and then syllabus.
5. There should be only 3-5 mission statements.
6. Vision statement should talk about future of institute.
7. Goal setting for self and department will be reflected in improvement of institute.

After lunch afternoon session was started at 2 pm.

Session 2, “Hard Knocks-Saathi Haath Badhana”. Prof. Naber and team

In a rather matter of fact and humourous manner, Prof Naber's session stressed the importance of feelings and emotions in our life and the contest between brain and mind. There was an introspection on our innermost thoughts and feelings which shape us as individuals. Neglecting feelings and their importance can have a ripple effect on other areas of life often proving detrimental to the individual's success. Prof Naber enlightened the audience in a humourous session and talked about the Kole's Experiential Learning Cycle. The audience was split into six groups with eight participants each and were taken outside for group activities.

Activity 1, Marking the mines in serial order

The task was to find numbers laid down on floor from 1-40. This was to be done in a team within shortest time without mistakes. There were some guiding rules and disqualifying methods while attempting to mark numbers from 1-40. All the teams attempted this with full energy and coordination and participated wholeheartedly a healthy competitive spirit. There was a lot of strategy, planning and learnings from this exercise.

The audience then regrouped in conference room for a detailed analysis of each team's behaviour and goal setting capabilities and letting each person contribute to the team's success. "Tu Tera Dekh" was the takeaway from this exercise.

Activity 2, Saathi Haath Badhana

This activity was to roll a small ball in a semicircle pipe in forward direction only without dropping it down and need to put it in a container 3-4 meters away from us to score a goal. To do this we have been given two time slots, first 10 minutes and then 5 minutes. All the teams attempted this with a lot of energy and with a thrust to win the game. Later we had very important discussion and insights from Prof. Naber about the surprising results from each team. This activity was concluded at 6 pm beyond the schedule, but everybody was very cheerful at the end of the session.

Cultural Evening

The evening of the first day was made memorable by the cultural program. Participation of the faculty members was spontaneous and it was a remarkable event. This was anchored by prof. Pramod Bhide who managed it with a very smooth flow of various activities like singing, dancing and solo acting by principal sir.

DAY 2, 18TH MARCH, 2023

The day started with an early morning walk and almost all faculty visited the Ashtavinayak Mahad Ganesh temple which is a stonethrow away from the resort.

Session 1, Building Institutes of Excellence, Prof Mukul Sutaone, Vice Chancellor, COEP Technological University

He discussed how excellence is a relative in nature. He insisted on defining our goals to achieve excellence.

Prof B.N.Chaudhari introduced and welcomed Prof Sutaone and requested him to take over the session.

Prof Sutaone addressed the audience on how to work to achieve excellence and the role of quality and an institute level development plan. Highlighting the difference between a teaching intensive institute and a research intensive institute, he compared an institute's journey towards excellence to a staircase. He also explained strategies for winning. He outlined the various excellence benchmarks of a teacher like good communications skills, good domain knowledge, lifelong learner, consistent persistent teacher, ethical teacher, good examiner, good course designer, excellent out of perfection and purity of mind

Sir has given thought about good researchers such as better studies, good communicator, good perfection and good administration.

He also mentioned qualities and ethics every teacher must possess for overall development. It was a very insightful talk. There was an interaction session with Dr.Sutawne and all faculty members. Faculty asked their queries to sir and sir answered to resolve them. It was a very nice interactive session with a lot of learning.

Key takeaways :

1. The journey towards excellence can be compared to a staircase which is comprised of alternating growth and a flat profile.
2. Excellence for an individual has to be defined by the individual himself and likewise for an institute
3. A good teacher should have good communication skills , good domain knowledge, should be a lifelong learner, consistent persistent teacher , ethical teacher, good examiner , good course designer, and have excellence out of perfection and purity of mind.
4. A good administrator should have empathy towards staff and students
5. It will be a positive step forward for S.P.I.T to move towards forming a University as it gives more freedom to add programs but freedom always comes at a cost and faculty and other stakeholders must be willing to shoulder additional responsibility
6. He also stressed on the fact that an educational institution should be driven by and identified by its faculty and not students. Though the student centric approach is popular now, in the long term interests of the institution, the faculty should be in the drivers seat

Session 2 : "Inspire to Aspire – HOPE" & "Happiness Unlimited", Dr. Prashant Khankhoje,

Samalji

Dr. B.N.Chaudhari sir welcome Dr.Khankhoje sir and requested him to take over the session

Dr Khankhoje talked about problems faced by today's generation in terms of managing competition, healthy relationships, and time management. He talked about fear management with some live examples. The session was interspersed with few meaning video clips which were very effective in communicating the intended message. He also talked about happiness, emotional well-being and gave a few techniques like practicing gratitude, meditation etc. it was again a very well planned session with a lot of learning. His thoughts on "Happiness Unlimited" really made the sense of how one should plan our day to day activities towards the happiest way of living life.

A special mention was made of Dr Prashant Kasambe for a remarkable attempt at framing a research proposal at very short notice in a very short span of time. Dr Kasambe was falicitated with Dr R R Sawant for sheer spirit in taking on the challenge

DAY 2 (After the sessions)

After the session, from 4:00 pm to around 6:30 pm everyone enjoyed the swimming pool and different rides, followed by high-tea.

Cultural evening

At 7:30pm the cultural event started with Antakshari. Faculties presented their talent in terms of singing, dancing, poetry, acting.

Principal sir concluded the session by summarizing the two days residential faculty development programme. He appreciated the faculties for the efforts taken by them to make the event successful. He requested each team to prepare vision, mission and goals for the institute and faculties to prepare the same for the individuals. We proceeded for dinner at around 10:30 pm.

Conclusion

The two day gathering was a refreshing experience allowing faculty to mingle and interact freely without the pressure of academic responsibilities. It was an opportunity to showcase the individual talents of faculty members at the same time allowing them to take part in activities without the barrier of gender, social groups, departments, cadre and so on. The group activities also brought out our competitive spirit in full force and allowed us to shed our inhibitions and become like children once again. The outdoors gave a fresh perspective allowing everyone to recharge themselves with a fresh dose of enthusiasm, commitment and dedication to move forward towards meeting individual, department and institute challenges and goals.

A REPORT ON FY B.TECH INDUCTION PROGRAMME : ACADEMIC YEAR 2019-20

As part of the AICTE guideline to conduct a formal induction for the fresh engineering undergraduates, the Applied Sciences and Humanities Department conducted a series of induction sessions for the new batch of students of FY BTech, AY 2019-20 from 6th– 19th August, 2019.

Summary: The aim of the induction programme was to make the newly joined students comfortable, allow them to explore their academic interests and activities, reduce competition and make them work towards excellence, promote bonding within them, build relations between teachers and students, give a broader view of life, and build character. The induction programme was spread over three weeks and included various informative and activity based sessions. It included activities ranging from ice breaking sessions, general counselling and motivational talks to calculator workshops, literary sessions and campus tour. An effort was made to integrate the induction sessions with regular academics to enable the students to gradually ease into the rigours of academics. As a new initiative, corporate trainers were engaged to conduct few sessions to convey valuable lessons effectively.

The details of each session are outlined below :

1. Orientation : The orientation programme for FY BTech students was held on 6th August in the newly renovated seminar hall and was well attended by students and parents. The students were addressed by the Principal in charge, Prof Y. S. Rao who highlighted the importance of basic science courses like Physics, Chemistry that are taught in the first year to the engineering students.

The students were also exposed to Maths, the rapidly changing face of the engineering profession with advancements in technology and were encouraged to keep up with the quick shifts in industry preferences.

2. The Ice breaker session: Immediately after the orientation, the students had an ice breaker session in two groups of about 60-70 students each. The session was conducted by Mr. Sanket Potdar, an internationally certified and one of the most sought after corporate trainers and Art of Living expert. Mr Sanket Potdar specializes in conducting induction programmes as well as stress management workshops. The aim of the session was to get the students to mingle and interact with each other, break inhibitions and develop a questioning mentality rather than blindly accepting whatever they are told.

It was a highly interactive and fun filled session which imparted important lessons for the next four years.

He also introduced the students to the Yes + programme of the Art of Living Foundation and conducted simple lessons in breathing techniques for stress management

3. Session with Dean, Academics: The students in each individual branch were addressed by Prof. Dr. Surendra Rathod and were introduced to the four year academic scheme. They were also familiarised with the various courses like SCOPE, life skill courses and elective options available to them in the institute and activities under SEWA . They were also informed about the mandatory attendance requirements, examination and promotion rules, assessment and grading pattern.

4. Session with Dean, Student Affairs and student council: Each branch of students were addressed by Prof. Dr. Rita Das and introduced to the Code of Conduct and discipline, anti ragging regulatory measures, attendance criteria, mentor-mentee programme and counselling services. They were introduced to the Students Council members and members of IEEE committee and their departmental committee. They were also appraised about the Grievance Redressal Committee and Internal Complaints Committee. They were shown videos of the previous year's student festival and other activities conducted by the student council.

5. Session with counsellor: The counsellor Mrs Mona Upadhyay imparted valuable advice on issues like exam stress, peer pressure etc. and welcomed the students to seek her assistance and support when required. It was an activity based session for better interaction amongst the students.
6. Calculator workshop: This workshop had received a lot of positive feedback from the inductees in the previous year and was well conducted by the students of the higher semesters. It introduced the freshers to various functions and operations available in scientific calculators encouraging them to utilise the versatility of scientific calculators to the fullest. As it was conducted by students council, the freshers were able to connect very well.
7. Session on Universal Human Values: This session has been made mandatory by AICTE to be a part of the induction program in order to encourage the students to search for happiness within themselves rather than seeking it from their achievements and material possessions. Relevant videos / movies were shown to students which highlighted the right attitude, interpersonal relations, respect for others regardless of age / stature, respect for nature and natural resources, handling the burden of expectations, etc..

8. Diagnostic Test: The AICTE has also mandated proficiency sessions in language and in this context, a diagnostic test in English language was conducted based on multiple choice questions as well as a passage to test comprehension. Students who need improvement were identified based on their score.

9. Proficiency sessions: Three English language proficiency sessions spread over six hours were conducted for selected students who were identified based on their score in the above diagnostic test. Some students whose names were not on the list, also attended the sessions, out of self-interest for betterment. During these sessions, basic language and grammar topics were covered to create a strong base for the students.
10. Literary session: A literary session for students of each individual branch was conducted by the faculty of Communication Skills. The purpose of the session was to open students' minds to learning from all kinds of sources, including literature. The students had to read short stories and poetry from Hindi and other regional literature, and deliver a group presentation on the values learned from them. Some students even spoke about the application of the said values in the engineering profession and in their student life.
11. Motivational Session: A motivational session was conducted for all the students in two groups of about 90 students each. This session was conducted by Mr Manish Gupta who is a corporate trainer with over 19 years of experience for business transformation. Being a mechanical engineer from a small town like Rohtak, Mr Gupta could empathise with the students on various issues like language barriers, limitations imposed by so called potential and so on. He shared his experiences as a budding engineer with limited knowledge of English and could connect very well with the students to impart many valuable lessons especially since he has published two books on learning English language despite being a late starter. One of the key messages he passed on was :

"AIM TO TEACH THE SUBJECT IN WHICH YOU ARE WEAK"

He focussed on important habits and the importance of shifting from fixed mindset to a growth mindset in order to be able to adapt to the needs of an ever-changing world

A highlight of the session was a pledge made by the students that they would never be restricted by the term "potential" (often decided by others) and would set impossible audacious goals and then walk on the path to achieve those goals.

The student response was excellent and could be gauged from the questions and interaction which continued even after the session had ended

Nearly 50% of the students could not attend the ice breaker session as they joined much later. Hence another motivational and inspiring session was held for these students with Ms Anjana Vinod.

12. Motivational session: Ms Anjana Vinod is a highly accomplished corporate trainer with more than 25 years of experience. She conducted two sessions for the students in groups of 60-70 each. It was an interactive activity-based session where students learnt to work as a team, leadership skills and also the importance of every seemingly irrelevant lesson to their overall growth and success.

These messages were conveyed to the students with the help of short stories and hence were highly effective in shaping their thoughts and attitude for the future. The students found it extremely rewarding and were vocal in their praise.

13. Session with the librarian: The librarian introduced the students of each individual branch to the vast database of information available in the SPIT library in the form of books, journals, newsletters and websites. The librarian also informed the students about the book bank facility available and the rules and regulations to be followed
14. Campus visit: The three week induction program culminated with a tour of the campus for the students accompanied by faculty members. The students were taken around the premises and shown their laboratories, library, gymkhana, placement office, examination section, canteen, SP Jain mess and also the green surroundings of the campus to ensure they are familiar with the location of various facilities.

Feedback from students

At the end of the induction programme, the students were requested to complete an online feedback form, where they were told to rate each individual session and the overall induction program on a scale of 1-5 (1 being lowest and 5 being highest). Suggestions for improvement were also invited and the students were specifically asked to provide inputs / suggestions, if any, for a second round of induction to be held at the beginning of the second semester in January, 2020.

Dear Faculty,

As I observed there is no seriousness in attending the class and labs. I request all the faculty to give zero Marks if any practical is absent. Similarly if theory attendance is less than 75% students are detained in giving that particular theory ESE paper.
